

Boko Haram terrorists have destroyed over 180 churches in Borno state, in Northern Nigeria, in the last month. According to Human Rights Watch, the Boko Haram Jihadists have killed over 2,053 people since the beginning of 2014.

Callous Carnage

According to Rev. Gideon Obasogie, 185 churches have been torched and 190,000 people displaced by Boko Haram's Jihad, in Borno state, in the last month. He described the destruction of churches as "sad, heart-aching and potentially dangerous to the territorial integrity and common good of Nigeria... our church communities in Gulak, Shuwa, Michika and Bazza were ransacked by the callous attacks of the Boko Haram terrorists."

Muslim Mass Murder

President Goodluck Jonathan of Nigeria reports that the Muslim terrorists, Boko Haram, have murdered over 13,000 Nigerians in the last 5 years. The president's statement reads: "Nigeria knows too well the destructive effects of terrorist activities. Over the past 5 years, we have been, and are still, confronting threats posed by Boko Haram to peace and stability, predominantly in the North Eastern part of our country. The costs are high: over 13,000 people

Churches Under Fire in Nigeria

